Charlotte Harbor

Minutes of the meeting of the Charlotte Harbor board of trade of April 19th, were handed in too late for the last issue of THE HERALD; but the matter of most general interest was the action of the board in unanimously extending thanks to N. C. Hewitt of this city, and Ed Scott of Arcadia, for furnishing automobiles on the occasion of the recent visit of the government engineers.

Good Financial Policy

The following from that able paper, the Ocala Banner, seems very logical and should have the attention of our national financiers:

We have not consulted Mr. William Jennings Bryan on the subject, but this paper more and more believes that neither gold nor silver, but paper, is the money of civilization. That that dollar is an "honest" dollar that bears the superscription of the government of the United States. We do not intend to be entirely accurate, but since the close of the civil war there has been in circulation paper money of the government perhaps approximating more than five hundred millions of dollars. It is a mistake to believe that this money rests its value on the theory that it is redeemable in gold or silver for such is not the case. And nobody wants this money redeemed. What man ever did so? There is not one man in a hundred who does not prefer paper money to metallic money. It is more convenient to handle. Every business man, every workingman, every farmer, is perfectly satisfied with a crisp paper dollar and indeed it is money of choice. Why? Because while it is more convenient to handle, he knows that behind it is the taxing power of the government, and it is based upon the wealth of the nation. Put upon paper money the superscription of the government—its "promise to pay"—and it will pass current in every nook and corner of the nation and the world over. Gold and silver money should take their places with copper and iron and other ancient devices.
